'DOUBLE HAPPINESS' WINS FOREWORD TRAVEL BOOK OF THE YEAR

Tony Brasunas's debut memoir has been named the ForeWord Travel Book of the Year Silver Winner

Alameda, Calif. – Author Tony Brasunas's debut, Double Happiness: One Man's Tale of Love, Loss, and Wonder on the Long Roads of China (Torchpost, 2013), has been named one of the best travel books of the year.

The ForeWord Book of the Year awards has named Double Happiness the Silver Winner in the Travel category, beating out hundreds of competing titles.

"I'm humbled and honored that Double Happiness has won further recognition," said Brasunas. "I wrote the book in the hopes that those ready to travel or take a big leap in life would realize they have less to fear than they might think. "

Double Happiness is an inspiring journey across China and through the soul of a young American. Not just exquisite travel writing, nor simply a portrait of life in China, the book has been hailed as a groundbreaking story of coming of age in the era of globalization.

Tony Brasunas lives in the San Francisco Bay Area. His blog is www.DoubleHappy.be.

Torchpost has published Double Happiness in hardcover, paperback, and e-book formats. Find it at independent bookstores, at Amazon.com, and at other online retailers, as well as at www.torchpost.com.
